Naples, June 29.

A Veſſel arrived here in 22 dayes from Lisbon, the Maſter reports that he left in the Gulph of Lyon ſeven Spaniſh Men of War deſigned with Soldiers for Sicily, where we ſuppoſe they may be by this time arrived. The Prince de Ligne, Governor of Milan, has remitted hither 60000 Ducats to be employed for the ſervice of Sicily, from whence we do not hear that the French have entred upon any action ſince the arrival of the laſt Convoy from France.

Genoua, July 3. Our Letters from Rome tell us, that the Spaniſh Ambaſſador had made complaint to the Pope, that the French Gallies were permitted to continue ſo long at Civita Vecchia, by which means they protected the Corſairs of Meſſina, who were abroad in great numbers, and very much diſturbed the Spaniards in their Navigation, and alſo that Proviſions were from time to time ſent from the Eccleſiaſtical Territories to Meſſina.

Vienna, July 11. Yeſterday was held here a great Council of War, chiefly concerning the Affairs of Hungary, in which, as we are informed, it was reſolved to raiſe a conſiderable Body of Men, who are to be kept on foot, to be employed as there may be occaſion. The Emperor has reſolved to ſend another Miniſter to Conſtantinople, to deſire the Grand Signior to baniſh out of his Territories all ſuch Hungarians who have been in Arms againſt the Emperor, or concerned in the preſent Rebellion, that ſo, all hopes may be taken from them of being able to obtain any aſſiſtance or countenance from the Port, with which they ſeem to flatter themſelves. The laſt accounts we have from Hungary, do not ſpeak the Rebels to be above 5000 ſtrong, and as to the Troops they ſeem to promiſe themſelves from Poland and Tranſilvania, we hear nothing more than what we formerly told you, and we have ground to believe that the King of Poland will not permit any Troops to be Liſted in his Dominions, which are intended to be employed againſt his Imperial Majeſty. The News we had of a Rencounter between the Moſcovites and the Turks in the Ukrain, and of the great advantage obtained by the former, comes confirmed; and here is a report, as if the Turks had offered to reſtore Caminiec to the Poles, provided they would aſſiſt them againſt the Moſcovites.

Copenhagen, July 17. Since our laſt, the Daniſh Fleet, under the command of Admiral Fuels, is come to Dragoe, to repair thoſe Ships that received any damage in the Fight. The Suedes are gone home, having ſuſtained a very conſiderable loſs, for we have the names of 11 capital Men of War, and 7 or 8 ſmall Veſſels which were taken, ſunk or burnt; ſo that we believe the Suedes will not be able to come to Sea again this year. The King, to recompence the ſervice of Admiral Fuels, has made him Lieutenant Admiral during his life. Among the Priſoners that have been brought hither, are Rearadmiral Taube, and Lieutenant Colonel Wrangel. The King has left Malmoe blocked up, and is marched towards the Suedes, who, we hear, are retired from the quarters they had taken within two Leagues of Malmoe. A great many ſmall Veſſels are preparing, with which Admiral Tromp is to go out upon ſome great deſign.

Hamburgh, July 21. The Elector of Brandenburgh has been before Stetin ever ſince the 5th inſtant, and when our laſt Letters, which were dated the 16th, came from the Camp, they had not as yet formally beſieged the place, the Troops not having taken their ſeveral quarters; all that had been done, was the laying a Bridge over an Arm of the Oder, and the taking a ſmall Fort, called the Dam. The Letters we receive from Denmark, give us an account of 10 great Men of War which had been taken from the Suedes, or elſe deſtroyed, and that the Daniſh Fleet was come to Dragoe to refit; it is ſaid that the Suedes had very few Seamen on board their ſhips, being Manned with raw Countrey people, which may be look'd upon as the main cauſe of their ill ſucceſs.

A LIST of the Suedes Ships taken, or deſtroyed by the Danes.

1. The Drake of 64 Guns was forced, during the Fight, to run aſhore, and afterwards taken.
2. The Julius Cæſar of 60 Guns, taken by Viceadmiral Chriſtian Bielke.
3. The Mars of 72 Guns, taken by the Rearadmiral Carſtenſteen.
4. The Saturn of 64 Guns burnt, during the Fight, according to the report of the Priſoners.
5,6. The Jupiter of 60 Guns, and another, the name whereof we know not, ſaid to be ſunk.

} taken the 12 under Malmoe, by the Dutch Men of War.

20. The New Calmer of 66 Guns, burnt under Malmoe.
21. The Lyon of 52 Guns, taken by Capt. Dreyer.

Strasburg, July 16. The Imperialiſts have taken the Fort at Hunningen, by which means Briſac will be kept from receiving any Proviſions from Suiſſerland, they are laying a Bridge over the Rhine there, for the paſſage of 4000 men, which are coming from Suabia, and are to join the Body now under the command of the Duke of Saxe-Eyſenach. From Schleſtadt they write, that the
